“Climate Hustle” Movie Takes A Skeptical Look At Global Warming Just In Time For Earth Day and UN Paris Agreement Signing

Marc Morano is available for interviews providing the other side of the climate debate

WHAT:

“Climate Hustle’s” Marc Morano is available for interviews to discuss the skeptical view of global warming timed with Earth Day and the expected signing of the UN Paris Agreement by the U.S. and other nations. These views are explored in the film “Climate Hustle” (in theaters nationwide on May 2nd for a one-night showing) that reveals prominent scientists dissenting on man-made global warming claims and highlights a comedy of failed “tipping points” and claims regarding how just about any malady of society is now blamed on “global warming.”

You’ve heard the arguments in favor of global warming fears. Now “Climate Hustle” and Marc Morano present the other side of the argument to give you the full story, revealing how even some politically left scientists are reexamining the evidence and declaring themselves skeptical.

‘Climate Hustle’ will hit theatres right after the Earth Day - April 22 - Paris UN Climate Agreement will be signed by the Obama administration. The United States and China agreed to become signatories to the agreement, just last month. Put forth at the UN Paris climate summit in December 2015, the U.S. will be signing onto the agreement without Senate ratification. The agreement is part of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and deals with emissions reduction and finance starting in the year 2020. A high-level ceremony convened by UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon will take place in New York where representatives from more than 120 countries are expected to sign the agreement.

On April 14, in advance of “Climate Hustle’s” release, the skeptics took Washington, with a Capitol Hill premiere of the film and high-profile panel discussion featuring Governor Sarah Palin, Brent Bozell, Marc Morano and Dr. David Legates. The film has received enormous media buzz in The New York Times, CNN, The Washington Post, Variety, ABCNews.com, NBCNews.com, Yahoo! News, Entertainment Tonight’s “The Insider,” and more.

“Climate Hustle” will be in theatres nationwide on May 2 for a one-night engagement and is a Fathom Event. For ticket and film info, visit www.climatehustle.com.
